FROM THE PASTOR:

Fourth Sunday of Lent

Dear Friends, John 3:16, has been called a summary of the Bible by Biblical writers and summarized the entire Gospel as well. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only Son, so that everyone who believes in Him might not perish but might have eternal life". In other words, the entire message of the gospel is about the love of God. God loves the world, but our action and attitude destroy it sometimes. God loves us but at times we kill each other. He gives us His only son to bring His message of love; to tell us that we are loved and lovable and that we should love one another but we kill him even up to this day, and we continue to live as if nothing happened.

But you know what? In spite of everything we have done, God continues to love us more. The kind of love he has for us is unconditional and total. Unconditional in the sense that he says to us: 'Even if you don't like me, I still love you; even if you say I don't need you anymore, I still love you; even if I don't feel loving you because you are no longer cute and desirable, I still love you; even if you are no longer in power or rich or have no use of you, I still love you; even if I do not get anything out of loving you, even if I look ridiculous for loving you, I still love you. Unlike the kind of love that we have, in a sense, it is conditional because we say: I love you because I need you, you are good to me, you are rich, powerful, and popular.

Dear friends, we are called to respond to the Lord's love offer today. This is what the Lenten season is all about. God's merciful love has no limits but there is a consequence for anyone who dies in his/her sinful rejection of that love. Love does not have to be pleasant. So, let us try to love someone a little more out of sheer gratitude that God so loves you.
